DWP discovery 04-19-1979" — (see pp. 2422.1 - 2422.3).

p. 5:

" William H. Seward's TRAVELS AROUND THE WORLD, edited by Oline Risley Seward, with numerous illustrations, (New York: D. Appleton and Company, 549 & 551 Broadway, 1873).

an expensive edition; the early date suggests that it might have belonged — possibly & should say "could have belonged" — to the oldest members of those found among the cache of Russell books: Laura and Hiram, although certainly Theron and Mary Emma could have been the purchasers of the volume.
